

Do Eye Colors Show Personality Traits?

By: Bridget Reynolds

Do Eye Colors Show Personality Traits?

The answer to this is yes! You might find it a little weird that your eyes can even show some key personality traits, but it's true.

Here are some of the traits that might match your own eye color!

Brown Eyes

Brown eyes show that you are very creative, lively, and are close to nature. It also shows simplicity and strength. You love to make new friends, have a good sense of humor, and can cheer people up at any time!

Green Eyes

Green Eyes show that you can relate to nature, you love freedom, and that you are intelligent. They are compassionate, creative, unpredictable, mysterious, quiet when you get to know them, and they tend to take revenge sometimes.

Black Eyes

Black eyes are a rare eye color, it shows that you are lively, full of passion, persevere, and give one hundred percent in whatever you do. They are competitive and like to show off that they can do better than anyone else. They're trustworthy, responsible, positive, impatient, secretive, and debate a lot.

Blue Eyes

People with blue eyes are understanding, enthusiastic, and love to help others or do good causes. They can say what they believe without any struggle and like to make people feel satisfied. They're independent, energetic, happy and bright, observe a lot and are straightforward. They can't keep up a routine, they hold grudges, and can get moody sometimes.

Grey Eyes

Grey Eyes show internal strength and sensitivity. They are wise, logical, very neat and clean, and are great secret keepers. They can control themselves and have a unique personality. They are problem solvers, leaders, and are great people.

Hazel Eyes

Hazel eyes show that you are capable to heal yourself, love trying new and advanced things, and never back down from challenges. It shows sensitivity and empathy towards others. People with hazel eyes are risk takers and are very fun-loving!

Violet Eyes

Violet eyes are EXTREMELY rare! People with violet eyes are very imaginative and creative. They have lots of self-esteem, inspire others, and are perfectionists!

THANKS FOR WATCHING!!

Hope you enjoyed!!